Rhonda Conner-Warren, PhD, RN, CPNP-PC

MSU HealthTeam extends a warm welcome to our newest faculty member, Rhonda Conner-Warren, CPNP-PC. Her most recent appointment was with the Ingham County Health Department’s Child Health Clinic. She has also held several positions at DMC, Children’s Hospital of Michigan, including ten years in their Sickle Cell Center.

A Michigan native, Conner-Warren is an advocate for delivering quality care to improve children’s health. Much of her work has specialized in areas of health-risk behaviors among children and teens. Conner-Warren’s research has been published on topics ranging from cumulative trauma load in urban youth, to pain management of sickle cell disease. As an advocate, she is often cited encouraging the use of apps to promote health and can be seen volunteering at health screenings in her hometown of Flint.

Conner-Warren joins our multi-specialty group as a board-certified pediatric nurse practitioner in primary care. She adds to our complement of 260 providers performing cutting-edge research, teaching medical and nursing students, and providing exceptional care to the Detroit community.
